

What makes me happy is being at the foot of a mountain or a hill and looking at the summit telling it Soon !, then marching on to sweat, breathe, suffer a little, climb up to that summit and tell yourself : I did it. Thank you . Just a challenge between you and nature. That's one of the most beautiful things in the world.