

My five year old
daughter told me :
Mommy, when you die, I will take all my treasures and I will give them to you when you return as a little baby.
That day, I felt a great
surge of happiness