

What makes me happy is seeing that the head of a busy bar can stop working for two minutes because he saw a blind man trying desperately to walk across a crosswalk and help him cross arm in arm that really make me happy to witness scenes like that ! Long live solidarity between people of all horizons
!!