

The day when I had to defend my DES thesis I was really happy because of all the things I had endured achieving the project.