

Someone who is able to listen to you, to have a discussion with you. Also to be able to open your heart to someone who knows about human qualities.